Employer roles and responsibilities

MAKE SURE YOUR EMPLOYEE:

- Understands your expectations and their responsibilities
- Understands wages, employment conditions, hours of work, start/finish times, lunch/rest breaks, leave and entitlements
- Understands their role in relation to your business success
- Has the equipment to do their job

ASSIGN A SUPERVISOR WHO WILL:

- Impart their knowledge and expertise
- Provide ongoing mentoring, encouragement, support, feedback and supervision
- Communicate clearly and effectively
- Work closely with the training provider ensuring all competencies are met

PROVIDE ON-THE-JOB TRAINING ENSURING:

- Relevant training to meet skills required to work in your business
- Time is allocated for training sessions (for example on a weekly basis)
- There is variety in the training regime
- You regularly review and evaluate how the training is progressing

WAGES AND ENTITLEMENTS FOR APPRENTICES AND TRAINEES*

Just like your current staff, your trainee or apprentice will be eligible for general employment entitlements including sick leave, annual leave, long service leave, super etc. You may also be required to supply tools, uniforms, workers compensation and other entitlements. *May not apply to some school based apprentices or trainees.

- Modern Awards established the minimum conditions for employers across Australia.
- We recommends you contact Fair Work on 13 13 94 or visit www.fairwork.gov.au for more information

EXPERIENCING PROBLEMS IN THE WORKPLACE

We will make contact with you and your apprentice prior to 12 months and, depending on the qualification at 24 and 36 months to check on progress of the qualification and to gauge employer/employee satisfaction.

If your apprentice or trainee experiences harassment, not receiving appropriate training, receiving poor feedback or has any other issues they must inform their supervisor immediately. You can contact your State Training Authority (STA) on:

QLD	1800 210 210	NSW	13 28 11
VIC	1300 722 603	ACT	(02) 6205 8555
SA	1800 673 097	TAS	1800 655 846

WORKPLACE HEALTH & SAFETY

By law, you should provide a safe workplace for all workers, free from verbal, physical, sexual and racial abuse.

- Your trainee or apprentice is required to follow any health and safety instructions you give. For more information visit:
